Marion to Bermuda Sail

The scene on Marion Harbor last Friday morning was beautiful and tranquil. Under the hot sun, people gathered with duffle bags talking softly among themselves. One by one, boats in the harbor dropped mooring lines motoring toward the harbor entrance, threading through the mass of anchored boats. They headed to a point in the distance where tiny white sails were barely visible. The bathing beach was crowded with swimmers who glanced up to watch the silent parade. In this non-obtrusive way the Bermuda race was off and running. All the excitement is to the participants, and all their thrills are personal. This is the way of sailing.

Harbormaster's Emergency Plan

PUT ON HOLD
MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
JUNE 18, 1991-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

At the suggestion of Police Chief James F. Moran that the harbor-related emergency and non-emergency calls policy proposed by Harbormaster Steven Mach be placed on hold, selectmen last Tuesday agreed this should be done and voted to have Selectman Paul E. Lambalot work out a schedule with the harbormaster and police chief.

The policy proposed by Mr. Mach involves a four-step procedure: A. Call harbormaster, if no answer leave message and go to step B, Call assistant harbormaster, if no answer leave message and go to step C, call deputy harbormaster, if no answer go to step D, if A, B, C fail call harbormaster's office, if no answer, try Channel 16, if no answer send police officer to wharf. Someone should be on duty.

Chief Moran wrote, "I think the policy of 'call, leave message', four different times leaves a lot to be desired. I feel the new procedures are as bad as the old ones and do not answer the needs of the boating public, and puts all the responsibility back on the police department. The police department handles 99 percent of the harbormaster's calls, both non-emergency and emergency situations."

The chief continued, "In the past, trying to get in touch with the harbormaster has been a major problem, resulting in the police department having to handle his calls, and talking to angry people who cannot reach the harbormaster. Very few times in emergency calls have we been able to reach him, and hardly ever on weekends and holidays when he should be at the wharf. I do not believe the harbormaster really takes his position very seriously to try to have me implement this type of hit or miss policy in an emergency, maybe life and death situation. Leaving messages on a telephone answering machine is not the way the police department has ever dealt with emergencies, and will not start now."

The harbormaster submitted to selectmen a work schedule which includes: Steven Mach, Wednesday through Saturday from approximately 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; also by appointment; Milt Heuberger, assistant harbormaster, weekday mornings until 11 a.m.; also works part of weekend shift but not on a fixed schedule; Robert Ketchel, deputy harbormaster, Saturday afternoons and Sundays all day; weekdays as needed.

The harbormaster suggests non-emergency calls as persons looking for information and lost or found information call the harbormaster's home phone or office and leave a message.

Selectman Lambalot will check out the cost of leasing beepers for the summer months so that someone will be on a beeper schedule. Mr. Lambalot will also work on a schedule with the police chief and the harbormaster.

operating budget in the amount of $95,828.25. The names will go to Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis for certification; 200 names are required.

James Bradshaw and Katherine Mahoney met with selectmen to present the petition. Mr. Bradshaw noted he received information from the state Department of Revenue that a special town meeting has to be held within 90 days of the last town meeting (which was held May 4). He added that his group of concerned citizens would like to see the meeting and special override election held by the middle of July.

Selectman Mahoney said the town clerk needs lead time to get the absentee ballots ready, advertising and printing and arranging a town meeting date with the moderator, R. William Blasdale. Board members agreed they will move things along as quickly as possible. A majority vote is needed at the special town meeting, the chairman added.

WERE NOTIFIED by the Massachusetts Municipal Association (MMA) that the state senate budget proposal indicates Mattapoisett will receive no Chapter 70 and additional assistance monies. The MMA urged selectman to contact its senators expressing opposition to the cuts.

RECEIVED WORD from the Personnel Board that it has issued a memo to all department heads regarding compensatory time. After researching its records and the Personnel Board's by-laws, the board found that there is no provision for compensatory time off or accumulative thereof for any employee covered by the by-law. Department heads a requested to correct all their personnel records to reflect this interpretation, and to inform each employee of the provisions of the by-law. It is very important for this to be done in order that this type of confusion will not occur in the future. (It was discussed at a previous meeting that some employees had accumulated many hours for compensatory time they believed they had permission to do.)

Selectmen went into executive session with Police Chief Moran and Special Council Arthur Caron to discuss police contract negotiations.

SOLARSHIELDS

SOLARSHIELDS give far more comfort as a sunlens than normal sunglasses. Whether hiking, fishing, sailing or relaxing at the beach, the non-prescription goggle fits easily over glasses or can be worn alone. Skiers, golfers, pilots or anyone concerned with top performance can benefit from a total UV sunscreen - and enjoy the comfort.

Photophobia:
Some people are more sensitive to light than others. For those in need of a "serious sunlens", the SOLARSHIELDS offer complete UV absorption to 400 nm and a choice of tints for comfort in the visible spectrum. Even with a dilated pupil behind the dark tint, the eye is fully protected due to special UV filters in the polycarbonate material. Top and side shields screen out all incident light.

For Cataract Patients
The aphakic eye is extremely vulnerable to postoperative retinal problems if not protected against hazardous ultraviolet radiation.

MATTAPOISETT LAND TRUST
SEAHORSE PROPERTY-CONTINUING STORY

A well-attended brainstorming session as to potential uses for the "Seahorse" property was held on the grounds on the evening of June 11th. The meeting brought forth a goodly number of thoughts, ideas and suggestions.

Located at the Route 6-North Street intersection, the property was bequeathed to the Mattapoisett Land Trust by the late Henry Dunseith whose will specified that it be used for charitable purposes. The Land Trust, whose objective is the preservation of open space in perpetuity, accepted the gift to preserve the beauty of the grounds themselves and would play only an advisory role in any future operation of the buildings

Congregational Church

God calls us to choose life. We cannot disagree with that. Yet many seem to make choices that are anything but life-giving. As we look around our world, and we note the freedom that many nations are beginning to have, we are aware that burdens go along with this, including a lessening of the security many of these nations have known. We have to make choices and live with them. Will our choices mean life?

The title of the sermon this Sunday at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church will be "The Burden of Freedom". Please join us at our worship service which begins at 10:00 a.m. Although the regular Sunday School classes have ended for the summer months, our crib room is open. Nursery service will continue to be available during the worship service throughout the summer.

From Board of Health

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health announced that an outbreak of wildlife rabies among raccoons may reach Massachusetts this year. This outbreak, which began in the mid-Atlantic states several years ago, was reported in Connecticut in early April when two raccoons were found to be infected. This is the first time the outbreak has extended this far north and east.

Since it is possible that the outbreak may continue to spread, it is important that several steps be taken to minimize the risk of rabies among our domestic animals, and consequently, people.

1. All domestic animals, particularly dogs AND cats, should be immunized against rabies. By law, dogs must be vaccinated. Cats are hunters by nature and often come in contact with animals at high risk for rabies. In fact, more rabid cats than dogs are now identified each year in the U.S. Domestic animals serve as the bridge between wildlife rabies and people. Protecting our pets and livestock is a major step toward protecting our communities.

2. People should avoid wild, stray or unfamiliar animals. They should not handle sick, injured or dead animals. Animal control officers should be called instead.

3. Raccoon populations have become dependent on humans and therefore, large numbers of these wild animals are living close to people. We should provide raccoons as little food as possible. Keep all garbage cans securely closed, and clean up any garbage promptly. Raccoons are scavengers and can feed off of all sorts of trash.

Anyone bitten by an unfamiliar animal should immediately wash the wound with soap and water. Then call your doctor or local board of health for assistance in deciding if you need to be treated for rabies. Follow their instructions. There is a vaccine. Six doses are given over one month's time. Physicians and health officals can call the Epidemiology Division of this Department at 617-522-3700, X420, 425 for additional guidance.

Jacques Brel is Alive and Well

Rehearsals are in full swing for the Marion Art Center's summer musical, "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris".

Directed by Paul Sardinha, the cast includes some veteran professionals as well as some new faces. Audiences will be happy to see Paul Knipler back at the MAC after three successful summers at the Zeiterion. Paul's personality and warm baritone are especially suited for this show. Paul also performs on guitar and trumpet. Christopher LeBlanc, who has been featured in countless shows in theaters on the east and west coasts, adds his dramatic flair in the show-stopper "Amsterdam" as well as many other songs in the revue.

Soprano Judith Coykendall and Corinne Paquin also return as well as versatile Anne Schenck all performing solo as well as company numbers. Joining the MAC cast for the first time are Duane Minton and Nancy Rolli. Duane is an accomplished musician and singer and will play the guitar and bass for some songs. Nancy has a rich contralto voice that completes the group.

"Jacques Brel..." was first produced in 1968. Although a musical revue in its broadest sense, the twenty-five songs and commentary presented in this work have created a universe particular to each separate production over the years. It is a piece of theater that affects everyone who comes in contact with it. The songs rang

A Thank You

I would like all of the people who have been so supportive and understanding concerning my certification process to know that my administrative internship was completed on May 28th and that I received my Nursery School through Grade Six Life Certificate on June 6th.

The numerous cards, letters, calls, and personal conversations that so many of you have taken the time to share with me have been most helpful and sustaining.

Your genuine support and encouragement during the past several months has left a powerful impact on me beyond which words can express.

With regard to the letter to "unwilling motorist" from Mr. Blackburn, I would like to add that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Drivers' License Manual addresses bicycle safety on Page 45, and specifically states, and I quote, Chapter 90 Section 14, requires that "in approaching or passing a person on a bicycle the operator of a motor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Since most of Mattapoisett's Proposition 2½ override questions were turned down at the polls on June 4th, some proponents of failed expenditures have expressed regret, dismay, anger, and/or determination to keep pushing their favorite override. Well, that's democracy in action.

Nevertheless, such foment calls for re-statement of the majority position, lest we forget why the questions failed. I don't presume to know all of the reasons, but here are a few.

1. New England's economy is at its lowest ebb since the depression of the 1930s. Companies are failing or moving away; people are losing their jobs, their houses, and moving away, too. This is a time to cut spending, stay out of debt, and save money if possible as an individual, as a town, as a state. It's not a time to spend beyond income.

Older voters, especially, remember these lessons taught by the great depression. Perhaps many voters were born too late to learn them. Having ridden the wave of inflation for their entire adult lives, they don't think it will ever break - until they find themselves on the beach.

2. In the face of our stumbling economy and the largest number of houses in the area for sale in many decades - their owners having voted with their feet - we were offered up such a rash of overrides that if all had passed the average homeowner would face a tax increase in the hundreds.

3. To compound the override assault, valuations of a large number of properties were arbitrarily raised this year, some by over $100,000! No unchanged property in this town is gaining value. All property values are declining; and all valuations should rightfully be marked down, if anything. Anyway, you can be sure of one fact; those whose valuations are so regularly and cavalierly put up are not enthusiastic about overrides. To keep asking them is to "beat a dead horse".

4. Seeking overrides, especially for non-essentials and recreation that benefit relatively small groups of residents is asking a lot of already overburdened taxpayers, including property owners in economic straits.

It's disappointing to lose a vote, but whichever way things go, we have to believe for democracy's sake that Disraeli was right: "The individual is foolish, but the kind is wise."

Your Vote is Worthless

EDITORIAL, DCJ

A one party system such as destroyed the Soviet Union is plain for all to see. Call it any name you care to. When one party dominates - corruption and ruin is certain.

The one party that controls Massachusetts and which, under Governor Dukakis, brought the Commonwealth to the brink and left us with the lowest credit rating in the United States is not content with the ruin of the state economy; they now turn their attention to destroying every city and town.

Remember when the sales tax was being sold to the voter? The state was going to share the revenue to relieve the homeowner.

Remember when the numbers racket was being sold to the voter? The state promised to share the millions to relieve the homeowner.

Where those millions go is as well hidden as the Dukakis miracle which disappeared on the very day after the presidential election. Now one more time. The party in power has managed to disenfranchise the local voter.

Now, when an override goes to the polls and is defeated that vote is NON BINDING. All the loser does is collect new signatures to force the town to the considerable expense of repeating the whole process of town meeting and a second election. Presumably, if that vote does not satisfy the loser the whole process would begin again.

How does this strike you? Perhaps we could run all elections in this manner. If you do not like the result of a presidential election collect signatures, have another.

SPRINGTIME AT THE SHORE

For the past two months now Miss Aiken and her fifth grade class at Old Hammondtown School have been working on their coastal ecology unit. This year has been the most successful yet. Enthusiasm has been overflowing, the weather has been gorgeous, and the fingerlings have been more than cooperative. The 55 gallon aquarium in the school lobby is fully stocked for all to enjoy. Organisms on display include a variety of crabs, a young lobster (by state permit only), mummichegs, killifish, sticklebacks, hermits, shrimp, and shellfish. Miss Aiken and her class were thrilled to find an abundance of pipefish, flounder, and the American eel this year.

Each child has become quite adept at handling the large seine net.

Recycling Counts!

PLEASE NOTE: Last Thursday evening your Recycling Committee met at the Recycling Center at the Landfill. We met with the Board of Health, the Landfill Attendant, including Jerry Normandin, recently hired to be the Recycling/Landfill attendant.

A table has been set up at the Recycling Center for sorting your recyclables. The attendant will sort them for you. The main reason for this is to prevent glass being broken and hurting someone.

Also, this is the first time that some of our recyclables have not been accepted by the company who buys recyclables from us. Reason? Simple enough - those plastic and metal rings around the necks of some glass and plastic bottles were left on, as well as their caps. These rings must be cut off with scissors or "snips". They cannot go into the recycling bins. Neither can their caps.

Also, the thin styrofoam and foil labels

Why Mattapoisett is Special

The following article was written by Virginia Morgan and presented at the Women's Community Guild program on "members' compositions". Several people suggested it should be printed in the Presto Press.

WHY MATTAPOISETT IS SPECIAL
by Virginia Morgan

Over the past 134 years the Town of Mattapoisett has had a long history of being the recipient of special gifts; not only material gifts, but gifts of time and expertise. The auto plate originated by Dick Lima of Romeo's in about 1975 has become the town's slogan --"MATTAPOISETT, IT'S SPECIAL."

When Mrs. Peter Kimon, formerly a summer resident and now a permanent resident of Mattapoisett, chose to donate funds to restore the 140-year old Mattapoisett Congregational Church Carriage Shed, it brought to my mind that over the years not only residents of Mattapoisett and those who cared about the town, but various groups have donated gifts to the town to benefit all the residents; such as the Mattapoisett Improvement Association, the Lions' Club and the Mattapoisett Woman's Club. The Woman's Club recently donated six benches to the town to be placed in Shipyard Park in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the club.

As an example of the most noted gift, the Center School, in 1896, was built through the generosity of Henry Huttleston Rogers, who also donated funds to build the Fairhaven High School with the provision that Mattapoisett students attend free.

In the 1906 annual town report, School Committee Chairman Lemuel LeBaron Dexter wrote, "Coming generations in Mattapoisett will have cause to be grateful for this latest gift to its schools." And how true were his words.

In 1901 -- 90 years ago -- Frank Marsh, the superintendent of schools, expressed the same thought that Mattapoisett is Special, although more eloquently, when he wrote in the town report, "I cannot let pass this opportunity of expressing in sincerest terms a full measure of appreciation of the goodwill and universal spirit of helpfulness which has ever been manifested by the people of Mattapoisett."

In 1904, George J. Purrington, Jr. donated $10,000 for a library building. Mr. Purrington also donated funds to erect the Soldiers and Sailors Monument that now graces the library grounds. Also in 1904, Samuel D. Warren of Boston donated the lot on which the library stands.

A little background of interest concerning the library:

The first "library" in town was opened to the public in 1881 in the upper story of the East Village Schoolhouse (across from the Friends Meeting House) when it was fitted up with a few shelves and a high desk, with 40 volumes, mostly donated. Funds for the first "library" were partly derived from $56.94 from the dog fund and $7.10 netted when Captain Charles Bryant volunteered a lecture on "Alaska". On Monday evenings after 7 p.m., "library night" was so popular one had to draw a number for his turn for a book.

In 1870, the former Mattapoisett Academy, which is now the Grange Hall apartments, was purchased for $1,450 from the Academy for the "Barstow High School" with funds from the bequest of Captain Zaccheus Barstow. It was sold to the Grange in 1915 for $1,975.

In addition to its schools and library, Mattapoisett has benefited in many other ways. I will now skip a few years to 1973 when Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Shoolman, summer residents of Bay View Avenue, Brandt Beach, donated a $600.00, 25-foot fiberglass flagpole to be placed on the lawn in front of the Town Hall. The Shoolmans also donated the long, heavy table now used in the selectmen's office. The Town Hall is also graced with the artistry of Tony Pelson, who crafted the sun catchers designed with historic and meaningful scenes of Mattapoisett.

In 1977 an anonymous donor gifted the town with $36,500 to purchase the present town ambulance. This is truly a gift that keeps on giving.

At the end of World War I, Mattapoisett celebrated a "Welcome Home Day" on September 13, 1919 for the "men of our town returning from service". Events included a parade, clambake, tug-of-war, a dance and fireworks.

In expressing the committee's thanks in the 1919 town report, Chairman Charles Mendell and Treasurer Lemuel LeBaron Dexter wrote, "to the many helpers for their gladly given and efficient service, the financial response from our citizens and organizations was willing and ample".

Some things never change --- Mattapoisett is again planning to celebrate the return of its war heroes with a hometown picnic at Ned's Point Veterans' Park on July 4, 1991. I feel sure Mattapoisett residents will give of their time and financial assistance to keep alive the slogan--MATTAPOISETT, IT'S SPECIAL.

High in the Skies

by DON MORGAN

Based in Hyannis and making several flights daily to Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, what better name than Island Airline could be found?

Flights of fancy are also featured for the aircraft decor is of the 40s. Complete with appropriate music and, yes, even Airline Stewardesses (not flight attendants). Bring your cameras for this trip folks, for where else can you relive the 40s at 20 thousand feet.

On the 17th of December, 1935 the first DC-3 took to the air. It revolutionized the concept of transportation. During the ensuing years it touched the lives of people throughout the world.

Originally the Douglas DC-3 was conceived as a luxury sleeper for American Airlines. Before the production lines came to a halt, there were over 10 thousand aircraft in all types of service.

It is estimated that there are at least 50 DC-3 still in service.

With the credentials of the DC-3, is it any wonder that Captain David Frawley of Water Street, Mattapoisett should be a natural to link his outstanding flying career to this silver master of the skies?

From Bishop Stang H.S.

STANG SCIENTISTS AWARDED 4th PLACE

Stang juniors Nathan Tynan of Mattapoisett and James Wesoly of Fairhaven recently participated in the prestigious "King of the Hill" competition sponsored by the Boston University College of Engineering. Competing with 53 other teams from around the country, Tynan and Wesoly achieved an impressive 4th place finish. Nate is the son of Mrs. Linda Kelsey of Mattapoisett, and Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wesoly of Fairhaven.

Their vehicle survived three rounds of competition judged by the B.U. Engineering Department, and were invited to enter the grand finale round for the top four vehicles. The top three finishers received lucrative scholarship prizes. Although Stang's engineers didn't receive a schoalrship, their fourth place finish among an invited field of national contestants is a success in itself. Congratulations to these engineers of the future.

Stang Sports Banquet

The Bishop Stang spring sports banquet was held for the athletes and their families at Stang High School on May 30th. In addition to the awards presented to spring athletes, the three major annual sports awards were announced. The coaches and administration nominate and select the winners, traditionally from among multiple sports participants and top students.

Awards are presented to the outstanding male and female student-athletes of the year. The John O'Brien Award, named in honor of the legendary Athletic Director at Stang, is given to the outstanding scholar-athlete of the year.

The Theresa Dougall Award was given to senior Alesha Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Estes of Mattapoisett. Alesha has been on the field hockey, winter track and spring track teams for the past four years. Alesha will be attending the University of Massachusetts Amherst in the fall. Senior Matthew Sullivan of Pocasset recieved the Carlin Lynch award. Matt, also the class salutatorian, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Sullivan. During his four years at Stang he has been on the winter and spring track teams, and on the cross country team. Matt will attend Roanoke College in the fall.

This year the John O'Brien Award was shared by co-winners. Erin Hoye, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Hoye of Mattapoisett, and Timothy Schmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmitt of Marion, were presented with trophies by Jean O'Brien (Mrs. John C. O'Brien). Erin, who will attend Holy Cross as an engineering student in the fall, has played on the field hockey, basketball and tennis teams. Tim, who will attend the United States Military Academy at West Point, has played football, basketball and golf during his four years at Stang.

Congratulations to these outstanding students, scholars and athletes.

IN THE HEART OF THE HISTORIC DISTRICT

Skillfully blending the sounds of hurdy-gurdy, bagpipes, violin, accordian, Breton bombarde, guitar, bouzouki, mandola and flutes, AD VILLE QUE POURRA has excited audiences from California to New England and the Carolinas and throughout Canada. The four musicians hail from Brittany in France, Belgium and French Canada. You do not have to be French to enjoy their stirring, impassioned music.

So, bring your children, lawn chairs, blankets and picnics to the garden of the Rotch-Jones-Duff House & Garden Museum for an evening of French song and dance. Jeggrey's Cafe is offering a selection of box suppers for the concert season, which must be ordered by Thursday before each concert. (Please call the office for details.)

Admission is $2.00 for museum members, $4.00, adults; $1.00, children and seniors.

The Museum's Heritage concerts are sponsored in part by generous grants from Compass Bank, The New Bedford Arts Lottery Council. The concerts are produced by Helene and Alan Korolenko of Barrel

Moniz Work, Lloyd Center

Currently on display at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies is the art work of Arthur Moniz, A native of the Fairhaven/ New Bedford area, Mr. Moniz has won numerous awards in exhibitions throughout New England. Many of his paintings of the New Bedford/Fairhaven area have been annually reproduced as limited edition prints, calendars and distributed nationwide.

In 1987 the town of Fairhaven presented the Emperor Akihito of Japan with a watercolored, limited edition print by Mr. Moniz which currently hangs at the Imperial Palace in Tokyo. His paintings are in collections throughout the United States as well as in Japan. Mr. Moniz's paintings depicting the rescue of Manjiro Nakahama are on display in both the Fairhaven Millicent Library and Tosashimizu City Hall in Shikoku.

The art work is for sale and a percentage of every piece bought will be donated to the Lloyd Center's Education and Research programs. The art work will be on display until June 28th, and we urge you to stop by and see these fascinating blends of expression here at the Lloyd Center, open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
